Concord N. H. 20 May 1861

Dear Friend

66R

From the stand point of the field agents, what I wrote, needs every word to be said. The cause too, in the estimation of many of the best friends of the slave in the land, demands it. So it seems to me.

Year after year, are we to be taunted with "pretending to be trying to be useful as Lecturers", when the Liberator & Standard look off's on that the work of the Lecturer is done! And told even by many (or some) of our old comrades, that we had better stay at home! Last year it was so — This year, from Philadelphia, it is renewed.

V31, P125B

them, you very justly dissented; but the Liberator publishes all that Mr Winn writes, with no dissent.

I do not need the late action of the Democracy, nor yet the course of the President towards General Hunter's Proclamation, to show to me how unjust, untrue, in such an intimation, as well as wicked & cruel towards our faithful field-laborers.

But I wanted "no discord among brethren". Do please set this at once, my letter, and it shall be the end of my disturbing you in any such way. I will still try to do my duty to the Slave, & to the Standard, this able advocate hitherto. and will ever be -

Your very sincere friend,

Parke Pillsbury.